Emergency Management

Prepare for the Worst, Hope for the Best

The primary mission of the Air Force EM Program is to save lives; minimize the loss or degradation of resources; and continue, sustain, & restore operational capability in an all-hazards physical threat environment at Air Force installations worldwide.

At Buckley Space Force Base, the Readiness and Emergency Management Flight accomplishes this task through the use of Planning, Equipping, and Training provided to the base populace and the surrounding community. Training is achieved through information programs such as the Be-Ready Program and courses taught in-house.

Tornado Awareness

On June 23, 2020 fourteen tornadoes were confirmed in Colorado. Spread over 5 days. On average, Colorado generates around 90 severe wind reports each year. So far this year, the total is more than twice the average totaling more than 151 severe wind reports.

A TORNADO WATCH means conditions are favorable for tornadoes to develop within the area. Watches bring awareness of possible severe weather within your area.

A TORNADO WARNING means a tornado has been spotted and poses an imminent danger to lives within its path. When a tornado has been spotted by radar or witnesses, officials will issue a warning over radios, giant voice and other methods.

1. Tornado speeds can vary from just under 100 MPH to well above 200 MPH.
2. They are measured using the Enhanced Fujita (EF) Scale ranging from EF-0 to EF-5.
3. The expected damage can range from minor parts of roofs damaged to massive concrete structures being critically damaged.
4. The peak tornado season in Colorado is May—July each year.
5. The safest place in your home is on the bottom floor away from windows inside a closet, small bathroom. Cover yourself with a mattress and protect your head.

Mental Health and Security Clearances

MENTAL HEALTH AND SECURITY CLEARANCES

BLUF: Seeking mental health services does not affect one's ability to gain or hold clearance eligibility. It is extremely rare that a person loses clearance for a psych reason alone

A detailed analysis of denial and revocation statistics involving psychological conditions clearly demonstrates that a cleared individual is not likely to lose or fail to gain clearance eligibility after seeking mental health care or experiencing mental health symptoms.

Even for individuals with concerns in other adjudicative areas, the loss or failure to gain clearance eligibility was rare. During that same period, only 380 individuals with psychological concerns in addition to one or more other concerns had their eligibility revoked or denied. Of particular note, none of the cases resulting in a denial or revocation were based solely on an individual seeking mental health care. Rather, other factors, such as non-adherence to medical recommendations or simply not seeking care in the face of a clear need for mental health support, were generally the disqualifying issues.

NOTE: None of these cases were denied/revoked just for seeking care

Seeking mental health care is a positive course of action and a sign of sound judgment. It is the most common way to mitigate mental health issues and is recognized as a positive step during security clearance process.

The timing between your first and second shots depends on which vaccine you received.

- If you received the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 Vaccine, you should get your second shot 3 weeks (or 21 days) after your first.
- If you received the Moderna COVID-19 Vaccine, you should get your second shot 4 weeks (or 28 days) after your first.

You should get your second shot as close to the recommended 3-week or 4-week interval as possible. However, your second dose may be given up to 6 weeks (42 days) after the first dose, if necessary. You should not get the second dose early. There is currently limited information on the effectiveness of receiving your second shot earlier than recommended or later than 6 weeks after the first shot.

However, if you do receive your second shot of COVID-19 vaccine earlier or later than recommended, you do not have to restart the vaccine series. This guidance might be updated as more information becomes available.
